

Screening Survey

Consent form: By checking Yes below, you consent to us collecting some basic information about you (such as your age and gender) and your experiences with Chrome. This short survey acts as a screening stage for a future interview study with the objective of understanding your perceptions of Chrome compromised credential notification.

Your responses to the questions in this survey will only be accessed by researchers associated with the study and will not be shared with any other entity. Your responses will be discarded once the interview participants are selected. Interview participants will be selected from the people who complete this survey. To ensure diversity of our participants, interview participants will be selected based on their age, gender, occupation, and educational background. However, completing this survey does not guarantee you will be selected as an interview participant.

No compensation will be given for taking this survey. If you have any questions or would like further information, you may contact the [Principal investigator] at [email address], co-investigators, [co-investigators] at [email address]. Do you consent to participate in this survey?
